The Department of Preventive and Restorative Sciences, University of Pennsylvania School of Dental Medicine, invites applications for a full-time Academic Clinician track (non-tenure accruing) position in the Associated Faculty available at the Assistant, Associate or Full Professor level. This position calls for a person who, through excellence in teaching and clinical practice in maxillofacial prosthodontics, is able to build and maintain the school's reputation nationally through leadership and direction of departmental activities. These activities include predoctoral and postdoctoral education programs, and further developing a robust maxillofacial prosthetic program as part of a comprehensive multidisciplinary head and neck cancer program at the affiliated hospital of the University of Pennsylvania.

The successful candidate must have a DDS or DMD degree and be eligible for a Pennsylvania dental license. Preference will be given to candidates who have completed a CODA accredited advanced specialty education program in prosthodontics, are board certified by the American Board of Prosthodontics, and have additional training/expertise in the field of maxillofacial prosthodontics.

Please submit curriculum vitae and statement of teaching interests along with names and contact information for three references to the University of Pennsylvania website https://facultysearches.provost.upenn.edu/ Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.
